Sir Alfred Mond, M.P., British and Jewish Statesman

A distinguished visitor in Toronto during the past week

The visit of Sir Alfred Mond to the United States and Canada brings to this continent one of the outstanding figures in the industrial and political life of Great Britain and one who possesses a peculiar interest to Jews, not only because he is a Jew himself, but because he has been an object of bitter attack and innuendo by the English anti-Semites. Sir Alfred is here in the interest of the Keren Hayesod (Palestine Foundation Fund), to which he is himself one of the largest contributors.

HADASSAH

The Jewish Community of the City of Sherbrooke has been very active of late years in all sorts of community work. The Hadassah Chapter, which was organized but two short years ago by Rabbi Schwartz who visited Sherbrooke to collect funds for Keren Hayesod has indeed justified its existence. The Chapter is called the Rachel Smith Edgar Chapter of Hadassah in memory of Mrs. I. Smith's daughter who died of the 'flu' three years ago. The officers of the chapter are Mrs. I. Smith, President; Mrs. Dan Eisenberg, Secretary; Mrs. Joseph Rosenbloom, Treasurer. During last winter a very successful linen shower was held at the home of Mrs. M. H. Eisenberg, Belvidere Road. Among other things the ladies of the chapter completed 50 hospital nightgowns which were sent to Palestine. The opening meeting of the season was held on September 30 in the Ahudath Achim Synagogue.

Ladies' Aid

The Ladies' Aid Society is composed of a group of women who take care of the poor in the district. This society has been in existence for over fifteen years. The officers are as follows: President, Mrs. Joseph Rosenbloom; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. M. L. Eisenberg; Treasurer, Mrs. Sam Rosenberg; Secretary, Mrs. Jacob Rosenberg. The Visiting Committee consists of Mrs. M. Eisenberg, Mrs. [illegible], and Mrs. [illegible]. The Ladies' Aid meets once a month either in the synagogue or at the home of one of the members. During the winter the proceeds of which will be devoted to the Talmud Torah Schools.

Last winter the "Joybelles," a group of the younger girls, planned a number of delightful social entertainments in aid of the synagogue. Misses Anna Black, Minnie Blitt and Kate Weinstein were among the active members of the club.

* * *

One of the most interesting of the organizations is a group composed of the younger boys of from 15 to 18 who met for study and recreation. This club which is called "Men of David" is remodelled on the order of the Toxis boys (a Toronto organization) and takes as its motto "And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the Lord." The club hopes to develop each member spiritually, mentally, physically and socially. This year its progress will be slightly hampered because a number of the members have left Sherbrooke to attend schools or universities. The Mentor is Mr. Abe Echenberg, the Chief is Mr. Lewis Rosenbloom and the members are Wm. Rosenbloom, Max Echenberg, Sidney Echenberg, Isadore Echenberg, Harry Rappaport, Morris Cutler, Hyman Krawkowsky, Morris Edgar, Hyman Green, Max Krawokowsky.

The entire Jewish Community mourns the loss of Mrs. Eunice Simpson Rose who was accidentally killed last week. It will be remembered that three years ago when Mr. Slonim of the Keren Hayesod Propaganda Committee spoke to the Sherbrooke community about contributing to the National Fund, Mrs. Rose and her sister, Miss Simpson, were the only non-Jews who attended the public meeting. Both women were in straightened circumstances and earned their livelihood as seamstresses, yet in response to the appeal they each donated $80 in cash to help in the restoration of Palestine.

HUSSEIN DEMANDS FULL INDEPENDENCE FOR PALESTINE

Hedjaz King Will Not Sign Anglo-Arab Treaty Otherwise, Envoy Says

Jerusalem (J.T.A.)—The "Falastin" writing on the recent declaration made by King Hussein's representative in Jerusalem says:

"Anyone reading the declaration made by the representative of King Hussein will believe in the King's devotion to the Arab cause, particularly as far as the Palestine question is concerned.

"This declaration will remove all doubts and will cause much better feeling in all relations with King Hussein, while doing away with the ill feeling caused by the publication of his statement by the Palestine government.

"It is true that this declaration is not completely satisfactory as long as the British Zionist policy continues, but it gives us new energy and force to defend our rights which have been overridden and prompts us to continue our work until the British, whose policy is robbing us of our land, recognize that Palestine belongs to the Arabs and only to the Arabs."

The declaration referred to reads:

"I have been delegated by his majesty to explain to you his intentions. The draft of the Anglo-Arab Treaty as presented to King Hussein has not met with its complete approval. He introduced important modifications, including stipulation for the complete and absolute independence of Palestine, in order that the inhabitants of Palestine might choose their own government for the conduct of public affairs as they may desire. This modification leaves the Balfour Declaration ineffective.

"King Hussein also demands that the Palestine High Commissioner should announce to you after the conclusion of the Treaty in the presence of the delegate from the Hedjaz that Palestine is completely independent and unconditionally eligible to join the Arab confederation of the state in fulfillment of British pledges to King Hussein. King Hussein instructs me to assure you that if the British government does not grant this stipulation he will flatly refuse to sign the Treaty.

"King Hussein intends to pay a visit personally to Palestine and Europe. It then will be explained to him what form of government you desire. It unnecessary he will come to consult you as to what steps are to be taken.

"I also request Sir King Hussein to say that he regards the Palestinian as his children in every respect, be they Christian, Sunni Jews or Zionists, who are ready to abandon the Balfour declaration."

[illegible] Chief Secretary of the Palestinian [illegible] has been obliged to lay down to allay [illegible] rumor spread by the newspapers in London that they would have nothing to do with him because he is a Jew, according to the Berlin Socialist weekly "Lincke."

SIR MORTIMER DAVIS TO PAY EXPENSES OF MONTREAL FEDERATION CAMPAIGN

Sir Mortimer Davis will pay all expenses of the campaign of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies which takes place during the week of October 22 to 26, so that the funds secured as a result of the drive will be available for philanthropic work.

This offer from Sir Mortimer will be a tremendous incentive to the workers who will participate in the campaign which aims at $200,000 in annual subscriptions. At the opening of the campaign 1,500 Jewish citizens of Montreal will be actively engaged in the task of "saving the Federation."

The Organization Committee is composed of the following: Michael Hirsch, Esq., chairman; Peter Bercovitch, K.C., M.L.A.; Moe Albert, Esq.; Edgar M. Berliner, Esq.; Rabbi H. Cohen, Rabbi Jos. Coroos, M. C. Ginsberg, Esq.; Ald. Lyon W. Jacobs, A. H. Jassby, Esq., Al. Lesser, Esq.; Rabbi Max J. Merritt, Louis Salomon, Esq.; Rabbi H. Abramowitz.

Mr. Frank H. Berend, of New York, the new business manager of the Federation, is actively engaged in the installation of an industry organization similar to the one now in operation in practically every leading federation.

All of the various industries have already been allocated to twelve allied divisions, each under the leadership of one of the most representative men of the community. Each of these division heads is now actively engaged in enlisting the support of the prominent men in each of the industries in his division to act as industry chairman. The industry chairmen in turn are completing the industry organization by getting enough men as lieutenants to cover their individual industries adequately.

The office is engaged meanwhile in preparing for the coming campaign a most comprehensive list of the Jewish community. The remainder of the city has been divided geographically into districts at the head of which prominent men and women are rapidly being enlisted as leaders.

These leaders in turn are selecting enough workers to canvass thoroughly their districts and will be prepared to begin an energetic campaign simultaneously with the launching of the industry campaign.

The altar and stairway were a lovely mass of palms, ferns and pink gladioli. Mr. George M. Brewer was the organist, and Mrs. Fraser Stewart sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee." The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. Dave Solomon, wore a gown of white moire silk, in Victorian style, made with sleeves dropped over the shoulders, and trimmed with pearls; the long narrow court train was of moire silk, lined with shell pink georgette. Her veil was of white net, arranged in Russian style with coronet of pearls and orange blossoms on the cap. She carried a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and orchids with showers of lilies-of-the-valley. She was attended by Mrs. R. M. Pierce, as matron of honour, attired in a gown of citron-coloured velvet, embroidered with beads, and wearing a large black picture hat. She carried a bouquet of sunburst roses, arranged with a shower of sweetheart roses. The bridesmaids were: Eileen Cohen, sister of the bride, in a peach-coloured frock of georgette in Victorian style and trimmed with pearls; Miss Rosalie Rose in a gown of coral chiffon over satin made in Victorian style, and Miss Ethel Boronow in a gown of pale blue georgette with silver rose buds. The three bridesmaids had flower wreaths arranged in their hair, and carried Colonial bouquets of Ward roses, tied with creamy yellow tulle. Little Miss Jean Asch in a dainty frock of mauve georgette over mauve satin with a mauve band on her hair was train-bearer. The flower girls were little Misses Jane and Dolly Asch, who wore frocks of pink and yellow georgette, and carried flower baskets of pink roses, beautifully tied with pink and yellow tulle. The best man was Mr. Charles Asch and the groomsmen were: Dave Asch, William Heillig and Julius Block. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a diamond and platinum bar pin. The bridesmaids received pearl bar pins, the groomsmen cuff links, and the little flower girls were given pearl brooches. Mrs. Elizabeth Cohen, the mother of the bride wore a straightline gown of black Rhama brocaded chiffon, and a black hat and carried a corsage bouquet of American Beauty roses. Mrs. M. Asch, the mother of the groom, wore a wine-coloured gown of flat canton crepe embroidered in iridescent beads, a black hat and corsage bouquet of American Beauty roses. Mr. Brewer, the organist, played Mendelsohn's Wedding March as the bridal party left the altar after the ceremony. Going away the bride wore a brown broadcloth coat dress with hat, shoes and stockings to match, and a silver fox fur. Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Asch left on a motor trip to New York, Atlantic City and the Central States. They will be gone over a month, and upon their return will reside in the Laurentian Apartments on Côté des Neiges Road. Following the ceremony there was a reception in the Temple Hall. REVIEW JUNIOR SECTION

All our cousins are invited to enter the new contest.

There will be prizes for the best original story, the best original poem and the most interesting letter contributed this month. Here's a splendid chance for our family to distinguish itself

Contestants must be under fifteen. Parents of contestants must be subscribers to the REVIEW. An exception is made in the case of children who are living in orphanages or like institutions.

All letters, stories, poems, jokes and riddles for the REVIEW Junior Section must be written on one side only of paper and should be addressed to Cousin Judith or Cousin David, CANADIAN JEWISH REVIEW, 319 Bay Street, Toronto, Ont.

Dear Girls and Boys:

OUR FIRST COMPETITION is over and gone (that is . . . almost), and I do hope that you all enjoyed it as much as I did. The judges decided after a great deal of deliberation to award the prizes to two girls whose suggestions were very good. Because we couldn't decide which of the two was the better, we are calling it a tie and dividing the prize money between them. Which is all very nice . . . but I know you're excited because I have not yet told you who the prize-winners are. So here goes . . . Our congratulations to Fannie Fleming, of Ottawa and THE MYSTERIOUS M.P.A., of Montreal. Will they both send me their addresses, so that their prizes may be mailed to them? And some time soon we'll use their ideas, and have an especially nice contest.

How many of you are going to write something for this month's competition? Most everybody I hope.

Cousin Judith.

Dear Cousins:

Did you notice, cousins, that Cousin Judith is getting all the letters these days? 'Course, I'm not jealous . . . not at all. But I would like to see the Mail Carrier stagger into ye editor's den (which is a curious place, that is, a cross 'twixt and 'tween a faery ground and an ogre's donjon keep) with ten bags of assorted letters. (Y'know . . . pink envelopes and blue ones and mauve ones and white ones) all for Cousin David. As I said before I am NOT jealous . . . but I would like that. Boys . . . make things hum during the month, we do want to hold up our end as far as this new contest is concerned. Make things happen fast. . . .

Eh . . . what?

Cousin David.

Dear Cousin Judith:

Have you room for a girl twelve years old who desires very much to become a "cousin" of yours? I live in Ottawa, Ontario, and am a devoted reader of the REVIEW Junior Section.

I would like very much to become an entry in the contest. These are my ideas:

1. A letter or story in the form of an autobiography of some animal.

2. The prizes should be $2 for either the nicest story or drawing, and the remaining dollar to be given to the person whose story is neatest written.

These are my suggestions. Do you approve of them?

Wishing the club good luck, and that it will prosper.

I remain,

Soon hoping to be a cousin.

Fanny Fleming.

Dear Fannie:

'Course we've room for you. If we didn't have, do you know what we'd do? Just this . . . we'd MAKE room! SEE? I'm glad you like our page . . . because that means that you'll adopt it as your very own and do your bestest to contribute interesting items for it. Which is what I would like.

Your competition suggestions are good. How do you like the subject of our next competition? I hope that you will enter it! Let's see whether you shine as authoress, poetess or artist? Thanks for the good wishes. Art excited to be one of the prize-winners?

Cousin Judith.

Dear Cousin Judith:

I think that we ought to have ever so many competitions . . . of all kinds, shapes and forms. My suggestion for this one is as follows: A prize to be given to the most interesting letter each month. Because we all do like to read letters, especially when they are clever ones that tell of experiences and travels, whether real or imaginary. In fact, I really prefer original things. What do you say? Best of luck.

M.P.A., The Mysterious One.

Dear M.P.A.:

UMMMM! Yes, I do think we ought to have more original ideas. It is nice to receive the riddles and jokes and poems that the cousins send in . . . but it would be even nicer if they were articles that were absolutely your very ownest. How does it feel to win a contest?

Cousin Judith.

POETS' CORNER

The heart is hard in nature and unfit
For human fellowship, as being void
Of sympathy, and therefore dead alike
To love and friendship both, that is not pleased

Nor feels their happiness augment his own.

WHOA, OLD CLOCK

Whoa, old clock! don't tick so fast.
I want to make the daylight last.
I want to stay outdoors and play.
Please, old clock, please let me stay!

Whoa, old clock! I want to know
Can you tick, oh, very slow?
I can't reach you, up so high.
Please, old clock, be good and try.

Whoa, old clock! Why hurry so,
When I ask you to go slow?
While I play won't you please creep?
You can hurry while I sleep.

ABOUT THE MONTHS

Busy, noisy March begins
First of all, you know;
He must wash the gullies down
And sweep away the snow.

His sister, April, comes along
And when the floor is clean,
Spreads her nice new carpet down,
Soft and fresh and green.

Then, at last, dear little May,
Who always tried to please,
Hangs her snow-white curtains up,
From many of the trees.

Mrs. Green is springtime,
Mrs. Brown is fall,
Mrs. Gray is rainy day,
When the clouds are over all.

Mrs. Flower is summer,
Winter's Mrs. White and Mrs. Snow
They're twins you know,
Mrs. Black is night.

WILL THE KLAN ENTER ONTARIO?

It is again being rumoured that the Ku Klux Klan are laying plans to enter Ontario. We trust that this rumour is untrue. Yet it is not unwise for liberty-loving citizens to be watchful.

We know from the newspapers what a terrible mess of things the Klan has made of things in the States. Wherever they have been active, the Klan has incited the mob to riot, pillage and even murder. Everywhere the Klan has threatened peaceful citizens, and in many places the Knights of the White Sheet have taken the law into their own hands in defiance of constituted authorities.

It is a matter of firm conviction on the part of many thinking people in the United States that the K.K.K. are leading up to a civil religious war. It is to be a struggle between the self-designated 100 per cent. Americans against the so-called "foreigners." The 100 per cent. Americans are defined as people who are white, Protestants and of Nordic extraction. All the rest of the population are considered the enemies of America. In many places it has already come to a religious war. Catholic institutions have been burned, Negroes have been lynched, Jewish firms have been boycotted, and in the smaller towns Jewish merchants have been driven out of business. The negro migration from the Southern States to the North amounts virtually to an exodus. Catholics and Jews have been barred from civic and educational appointments. We have even heard of a good-sized city in the U.S.A. where there is a large restaurant opposite the depot over whose doors there is a sign, "Only 100% Americans Welcome." And all this in the free U.S.A.

It is extremely heartening to know that practically without exception, the Canadian Press has taken an outstandingly clear position in opposing the entrance of the Klan into this country. The former Attorney-General of Ontario, the Hon. Mr. Raney, even issued an order forbidding the Klan to start any activities here. So far as we know, the determined opposition of the press and the Government were effective in keeping the Klan out.

Simultaneously, however, with a change of Government in Ontario, the officials of the Klan have renewed their insulting threat to start things here. We are certain that the Canadian people and the new Ontario Government are whole-heartedly against the Klan and the foul things it brings in its wake. For this reason we would urge the new Attorney-General to let it be known, e'er the Klan monster raises its head, that Ontario is not fertile soil for it to breed in. An ounce of prevention in such a case is worth a pound of cure.

THE MERRY-GO-ROUND

Now that the cycle of Jewish holidays and festivals are past, we marvel at how so many Jews "get religion" only at that season of the year. The explanation has always baffled us. For our part we leave it to the psycho-analyst to make out of the Rosh Hashonah and Yom Kippur Jew what he pleases. One thing seems certain, that most people get enough "religion" during this cycle to last them for a whole year. They seem not only to become surfeited with religion, but what is worse, they suffer with constipation brought on by an overdose of sermons preached at them. The modern Jew, it would appear, doesn't enjoy being "mussored" and sermonized, and regards it as a relief when the holiday season is over.

There is, however, "no rest for the wicked!" No sooner are the holidays over than a new series of duties and responsibilities commence. It is a case of from the frying pan into the fire. Though you swore last spring that you were forever through with drives and meetings, you find in spite of yourself that the holiday sermons and rabbinical exhortations have again aroused the germs of "meetingitis" which lay dormant in you all summer, and you are drawn into the whirligig of activities, of which the Jewish community is as full as a pomegranate is of seeds.

Now there is no use deluding ourselves. Every Jew suffers, to some degree, from a disease known as "meetingitis." It ranks first with "argumentitis," a close second in the list of the principal Jewish diseases. The Jew who does not suffer from these two diseases is atypical, and we recommend that he undergo an examination to determine his right and fitness to belong to the race. The Jews are the best "joiners" in the world; in fact, they are born joiners. It's as easy to start a new Jewish society as to eat apple pie. True, many of these societies, each of which must have its full set of officers, regalia, etc., are "like ships that pass in the night." But while they last, they exist for the high and mighty purpose of "doing something"; just what, need not be so clear so long as it gives us each a chance to "join" and to "do something." . . .

Surely people are not to be blamed because they want to do something, for really, isn't there so much to be done? So many wrongs to be righted? And who is less impatient about the righting of wrongs than the Jew? Consequently it's a mere trifle for most of us to be persuaded into joining several societies, lodges, clubs and what nots.

God made the days for work and the nights for meetings, so we spend every night of the week attending this lodge affair and that committee meeting, until there are not enough nights in the week to go round for all we belong to. Since God made the days for work and the nights for meetings, what did he create lunch time for? The answer is, to plan out campaigns and drives to extract money from people's pockets for "worthy causes." And is there a Jewish "cause," we ask, that is not worthy. The Jewish head being very largely a matter of the heart, who can refuse to give up a couple of luncheons for such worthy ends? And then, who can decline to donate a couple of afternoons for collecting? Who can resist the temptation of calling on his business competitor and extracting a subscription from him? So it goes on, a veritable merry-go-round. Every time the bell rings and the carousel starts around again, we find ourselves riding another horse. What difference does it make that the communal carousel is going round and round in a circle and getting us nowhere, so long as we are riding and are busy doing something?

Heaven forbid that we, of all people, should rail against what has become an established moral institution in Jewish life! Should the Jewish merry-go-round ever be abolished, we would despair of the possibilities of Jewish survival. In fact the very thought of a Jewish life without a merry-go-round is unthinkable.

But what we were about to say when our thoughts were rudely interrupted with the scare of the possible abolition of the merry-go-round, was that every person is entitled to his own soul. That being the case, why is it regarded as a heinous crime for which excommunication is too mild a punishment, when some of us refuse to hop on, and ride ourselves into a headache, every time someone blows the whistle and the communal carousel starts going? A few of us prefer to reserve one evening a week to ourselves, for ourselves. On these rare occasions we plan to get into a comfy chair after supper, with a cigar and a book and just read—or we trust none of you will consider us old-fashioned if we even crave a little leisure to think—yes, think—about the very things we do on the other six evenings a week, when we are whirling on the merry-go-round. In this wild dream of ours, we had even planned, on this night off, to get together with a few kindred spirits and just "schmoos." Oh, what would we not give if the good old days could be restored when the fine art of conversation

(not gossip) was indulged in. When friends dropped in on one another of an evening and engaged in some thoughtful discussion. It seems to us we have even been told that there was a time when folks had literary societies, for which they even used to enjoy preparing papers on high-brow subjects, and where they spent a pleasant evening in discussion.

But, alas! Why weep for the dead? It seems nowadays as if the very atmosphere of drawing rooms has a tendency to dry up the streams of conversation. It doesn't take much talking for people to find themselves stranded high and dry. Were it not for bridge, or some other such salvation, we might all be lost! The automobile and golf have robbed us of our day of rest so that the newspapers no longer find it necessary to waste good paper and ink in getting out thick, heavy Sunday editions. The tired business man of to-day is too weary to read, let alone think, and his spouse is too nervous to sit home. "Let's go somewhere and do something" are the slogans. Is there any wonder that the merry-go-round is so popular?

To the "fellers" with the "bright ideas," who are everlastingly starting something, we plead on our bended knee, let off a while. And to the perpetual "joiners" we say, stop joining, in Heaven's name, stop! If you must join, join up with your own brain, and join some little group where people read and think and discuss, where culture, not "doing" is the chief concern.

"Sometimes when people censure me,
I tell them without rancour
That for what it cost me to be free
I might have had an anchor."

We have been waiting to hear from the Toronto dailies on the recent publication of the results of the June departmental examinations at Jarvis Collegiate Institute but even the Evening Telegram and Saturday Night have remained strangely silent to the best of our knowledge. The Globe hasn't said a word about the Jewish invasion as evidenced by the great variety of foreign names in the list of students. The Evening Telegram hasn't told its most rabid Nordics that the way the Jews are sending their children into the high schools and spoiling them for the natives is something intolerable. Saturday Night hasn't editorialed on what the city and country are coming to when an Englishman's child can't go to school without being menaced daily by the sort of future citizens Toronto can do without. We didn't expect the Mail and Empire to stoop from its habitual chastity and so are not disappointed there and the Star, which is one of the most liberal dailies on this continent, could not be depended upon to bother with cheap comment on the inferiority of one future Canadian citizen to any other. What the Star might publish and the others wouldn't, however, is the comment of a certain teacher at Jarvis Collegiate made to a friend of ours that last year Jarvis Collegiate saw the highest standard of scholarship in its existence, in spite of the Jewish students, we presume.

The same chance awaits the Toronto Bnai Brith Lodge for big work this year as awaits all other Jewish organizations the country over in the million dollar campaign for the benefit of the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York. Whenever such an institution of learning has to ask for money just one more "crying shame" is added to the list already possessed by a people popularly known for generosity to charities and education and the Seminary campaign under Rabbi Drob will present the idea not only of giving to this immediate fund but of establishing some agency by which the school may be kept independent of campaigns as long as it stands. As producing depots for the country's supply of religious teachers such schools as the Seminary should be the beloved charges of organizations willing to take care of them without a word outside their circles. The Theological Seminary is an orthodox religious school and as such should be of particular interest to Toronto, which has enough orthodox societies aside from the Bnai Brith religious order to be cognizant of their duty to the fountain of orthodox teaching on this continent.

In spite of the fact that intermarriage is one of the surest, if the quietest agent of assimilation on this continent, the defenders of the "still faithful" say that, let Jews lose their religion though they may, their race-consciousness is always manifest in, at least, their objection to intermarriage. What are they thinking now that the grand-daughter of such a Jew as Jacob Schiff has announced her engagement to a man outside the faith? Some are probably admitting that this prominent intermarriage will encourage many more, down to the humblest. Some are saying that it will call the attention of Jews to the inroads intermarriage makes in their much-vaunted racial aloofness and determine them more than ever against it. One thing it should do is to suggest that girls who don't go where Gentiles are don't marry Gentiles, and that as long as Jews are successful in striving for social entree among Gentiles, intermarriage is as natural a result as the following of day on night.

Metropolitan Theatre, by the Jewish Musical Club. The performance, which was the first concert of the recently formed organization, was highly commendable and gives promise for the future success of the club, which has for its aim the development of Jewish music in Winnipeg.

Choruses and solos made up the programme with one or two instrumental numbers included. Under the direction of M. Jacobs, the choir acquitted itself most creditably, and the singing of the solists was of high quality. Misses Celia Wet, soprano, and Annie Wet, contralto, and Hyman Cohen and A. Fingard, baritones, presented Jewish folk-songs of various types. The pianoforte solos of Miss Ida Stockhammer and the selections on the organ by Hard Green were much appreciated. Mr. Jacobs in addition to conducting the choir, offered a vocal solo. One of the outstanding features of the evening was the song "The Three Dressmakers," the music of which Mr. Jacobs had composed to the words of the famous Jewish poet, E. L. Peretz.

Harold Green and Miss Celia Wet were accompanists. The concert was given under the management of B. Sheps.

KAPPA OMIKRON FRATERNITY

A number of Jewish young men of the City of Hamilton, Ont., have originated and put into execution a distinctly new idea—"The Kappa Omikron Fraternity."

Although many of the ceremonies and rules pertaining to the order are kept secret, it is permissible to give to the uninitiated a definite idea of the why and wherefore of the Kappa Omikron.

Kappa and Omikron are the tenth and fifteenth letters of the Greek alphabet.

The letter Kappa is derived from the Hebrew Kaph, which means the palm of the hand, denoting service to humanity.

The letter Omikron is derived from the Hebrew letter Ayin, which means the eye, denoting observance of distress.

The emblem of the Fraternity therefore is the palm of the hand and the eye, the hand to be of service and the eye to observe, to see and do being the motto.

Since all efforts of beneficence are modest and never aggressive in self-laudation, the KAPPA OMIKRONS veil the origin of their existence in allegory. The allegory reads as follows:

In ancient Greece there lived two Hebrews, Kaph and Ayin. They were, contrary to the Hebrew custom, named not after some departed relative, but after the tenth and fifteenth letters of the alphabet.

Under Greek oppression they were compelled to give up their religion and live as Greeks. In order to be free from persecution and not be recognized as Hebrews they changed their names to the Greek equivalents, Kappa and Omikron.

Kappa and Omikron were filled with a desire to kelp their starving brethren and the poor of the community in general. Their funds were limited but this did not deter them. Once every month they got together and compared notes on the most deserving case they had seen that needed help. They then decided and put their decision into execution.

Their lives became so happy and they radiated so much good in their continuous planning and monthly acts of charity that other men were attracted to the idea. A Fraternity was formed and named Kappa Omikron after these two men. The country resounded with the good deeds of this Fraternity but like all great movements in dark ages they met with an obscure end.

The marauding and barbarous hordes from the north overran the country and with the subjection of the Grecks the Fraternity of Kappa Omikron was lost in the maelstrom of bloodshed.

The idea is not confided to Hamilton and any group of reputable young men in any city wishing to investigate and desiring more information with the view of starting a Fraternity is invited to correspond with "the Secretary of Kappa Omikron," Drawer 578, Dundas, Ontario."

FIRST YIDDISH THEATRE ON BROADWAY

Presents "The Three Little Business Men," by Oscar M. Carter

New York (J.T.A.).—Thomashefsky's Broadway Yiddish Theatre opened last week at what was the Bayes Theatre on 44th Street, with a performance of Oscar M. Carter's, "The Three Little Business Men." The play, a swift-moving picture of Jewish-American life and manners, was in Yiddish.

Rudolph Schildkraut, Ludwig Satz and Boris Thomashefsky, three noted stars of the Jewish stage are playing the roles of the three business men. Mr. Schildkraut again showed the astounding abilities that he has always brought to his dramatic efforts. Mr. Satz, who depended for his effects more upon the orthodox stimuli of the Yiddish stage, did not find his trust misplaced. Mr. Thomashefsky, too, in no way disappointed his admirers or startled them by the introduction of alien methods.

The music is by Joseph Cherniavsky, and is essentially Jewish. The lyrics are by Elias Ginsberg and Ludwig Satz, the former a veteran of the Palestine Jewish Legion, and the author of several plays. The settings were modern, of a type that might well grace half the other shows in town, and the direction provided for speed and clarity.

Pola Carter, the playwright's wife, Richard Webb, Golde Lubritsky, Regina Zuckerberg, Irving Grossman, Freda Ziebel, A. Erber and Gershon Rubin completed the cast.

CHARGES GENERAL SPREAD FORD FICTION AMONG SOLDIERS

Vienna (J.T.A.).—Some of the Jewish soldiers under the command of General Ludenbach are charging that the general is seeking to spread anti-Semitic poison through the Austrian army.

They contend that Ludenbach is urging his soldiers to acquaint themselves with the "Protocols of the Elders of Zion" and to read the translations of the Ford articles.

JEWISH WAR RELIEF GETS $2,000 UNASKED—DELINQUENTS SCORED

New York (J.T.A.).—Two contributions of $1,000 each for the Jewish Relief Fund from Joseph Kohnstamm and Edward Kohnstamm, of New York City, were received without solicitation, according to Henry H. Rosenfeld, national director of the American Jewish Relief Committee. Joseph Kohnstamm accompanied the remittance with the following letter, in which he takes to task the war relief subscribers who have failed to pay up pledges totalling three million dollars:

"The attention of the writer has been called by Mr. Edward Kohnstamm, his brother, to an article in the New York Times of September 3, and it is our desire to recognize the importance of what is intended as an appeal to the hearts of civilized human beings.

"We take great pleasure in enclosing our respective checks for $1,000 each, which go with our prayers and our best wishes for the successful raising of the fresh fund, the necessity for which seems to be due to the dereliction of various subscribers to the tune of three millions of dollars.

"It does not seem credible that there could be so many heartless people in this country who would place their names to a pledge with so little thought of what it meant. It is conceivable that some of these contributors may have met with reverses in the meantime, but it cannot be possible that so many as would be indicated by a default amounting to three millions of dollars, could have come into so unfortunate a position. It seems too bad that some method cannot be adopted to force settlement out of those who have the ability to pay, and if there is no other way such delinquents should be ostracized by any decent society or any decent people.

"We hope that the publication of the newspaper article may have prompted many of the apparent delinquents to do their duty."

Copies of this letter have been sent to scores of communities throughout the country to serve as an inspiration to the delinquents who have not as yet paid their pledge to the European Jewish war sufferers.

Tea and eggs are in the same class. You insist on fresh eggs, and since tea deteriorates even more rapidly if exposed to the air, you should insist on tea sealed like "Salada," in air-tight aluminum to keep it fresh. Do not accept bulk teas of questionable age.

MANY JEWS IN NEW SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

By Milton Blackstone

Last Tuesday at 5 p.m., the New Symphony Orchestra composed of 75 musicians, gave its first concert of the season. Nineteen more concerts on Tuesdays, at 5 p.m. will be given at Massey Hall during the coming winter and spring. Over 1,500 people attended the opening concert, which was a great satisfaction to the orchestra and conductor, Mr. Luigi von Kunits.

A large attendance is expected of the Jewish people of Toronto at these concerts, which may be heard for 25 cents in the balcony, or 50 and 75 cents in the better seats.

In the new Symphony, the concert master or first violinist is a Jew. The first violist is a Jew, and also the first 'cellist. This means that the principals of three of the most important sections of the orchestra are Jews. The total of the orchestra is 75 out of which number 20 are Jews. The other percentages are as follows: Out of 14 first violins, 50%; out of 12 second violins, 58%; out of 8 violas, 37%; out of 8 'cellos, 25%; out of 5 French horns, 20%.

The first violins are M. Garten, Ph. Rosenfield, M. Roth, L. Gesensway, A. Gesensway, A. Koldofsky, M. Fogle; the 2nd violins, J. Dubinsky, M. Solway, H. L. Vansickle, H. Beard, M. Griss, G. Berul; H. Aaron; the violas, M. Blackstone, S. Hoffman, B. Barshtz; the 'cellos, J. Sterin, S. Mondzak; French horns, D. Karp.

The orchestra is a credit to Toronto, and the Jewish members are a credit to the orchestra. Five o'clock as the hour for concerts, is the reason they can be heard at such admission fees as 25 and 50 cents, for this hour does not interfere with the regular business hours of most musicians.

A well-known soloist will appear at each concert.

INSTITUTE DRAMATIC PLAYERS ANNOUNCE PROGRAMME

The Institute Dramatic Players, under the direction of Mr. Charles I. Benjamin, have commenced rehearsals of three one-act plays to be presented in Toronto in the early part of November. For the initial performance the director has chosen "The Changeling", by Isabel Accelstone MacKay, "The Ghost of Jerry Bundler," produced by Cyril Maude, and "The Violin Maker of Cremona," by M. Coppee, all for one evening.

Assisting Mr. Benjamin in directing the group of twenty players, who now comprise the membership is Mr. Henri Levy. Mr. Levy was latterly booked on the Keith circuit previous to which he played at the Knickerbocker Theatre in New York. His other appearances include important roles in "Luck of the Navy" and "The Law Divine." For some years previous to coming to this country, Mr. Levy appeared in a variety of roles in the Court Theatre and the Queen's Theatre, London.

While the complete cast for the initial production of the Institute has now been chosen, Mr. Benjamin will be pleased to receive further applications for membership from persons, both male and female, who have a real interest in the Little Theatre movement.

BNAI BRITH TO OPEN LIBRARY AT BOYS' CLUB

Among the various activities claiming the attention of the members of the Bnai Brith, is the bowling tournament which opened on Wednesday evening last. The Lodge has recently let a contract for the building of shelves and equipment for the new library in the Jewish Boys' Club on Simcoe Street, and arrangements have been made with the Toronto Public Library Board for the services of a librarian to take charge and for the furnishing of the library with suitable books. Formal opening of the library will take place about October 10.

The executive of the Lodge has formulated an interesting programme for the balance of the year and among the advance dates already announced, are October 15, initiation meeting; October 25, entertainment; November 29, entertainment; December 3, nomination meeting; December 13, entertainment; December 17, election of officers. Intervening first and third Mondays in each month are reserved for regular meetings.

Past President Nathan Phillips has been in New York this week in attendance at the general committee of the Bnai Brith Lodge as representative of the Canadian lodges.

A meeting of Sunnyside Lodge, No. 449, I.O.O.F. was held on Wednesday, September 26. The Degree team conferred the initiating degree on a number of candidates under the direction of Captain M. S. Till, P.G.

A splendid fourth was served and entertainment was provided by Mr. Artie Mehlinger, assisted by Mr. Billy Joyce and Mr. Marty Ford, a member of the "Abie's Irish Rose" company. Mr. Harris, the manager of the company, was also present.

In response to an appeal made by M. S. Till, P.G., a committee was formed to assist the bazaar to be held in aid of the Y.M. & Y.W.H.A. Talmud Torah.

OTTO KAHN ENTERTAINED BY HORTHY

Member of Kuhn, Loeb and Company Scored for Consorting with Pogromists

Budapest (J.T.A.)—Otto Kahn, of Kuhn, Loeb and Company, New York, told newspapermen here that the purpose of his visit was to study economic conditions in Hungary, and to conduct negotiations with Hungarian financiers.

Mr. Kahn arrived Monday and had an audience with Admiral Horthy the same day. Finance Minister Kailey entertained Mr. Kahn at dinner Monday evening, sixty political and financial leaders being present. It is understood that arrangements for the Hungarian loan were discussed at this occasion.

The "Morgenzeitung," of Vienna, commenting on Otto Kahn's friendly interests in Hungarian finance declares bitterly that "Kahn and Horthy's pogromist regime are worthy one of the other."

LAWYER DROPS TILLINGER CASE AGAINST EDITOR

Unfrocked Rabbi Threatens to Sue "Literary Digest"

New Orleans (J.T.A.)—Judah Ettenhaus-Tillinger, the unfrocked rabbi who confessed before a rabbinical court in New York in February that he was unworthy of holding a rabbinical office, has entered suit against Dr. Mendel Silber, rabbi, and editor of the "Jewish Ledger" here, for the publication in the "Ledger" of an account accusing Tillinger of consorting under false pretenses with a Christian minister.

Tillinger's suit against Dr. Silber is in abeyance, however, as the lawyer whom the unfrocked rabbi retained as counsel refused to handle the case any further after a conference with Dr. Silber.

It is understood that Tillinger has left for New York to enter suit against the "Literary Digest" for an accounting of his career published in March. Mr. Davison, a New York attorney, is said to have been retained by him as counsel for his suit against the "Digest."

The owners of the "Literary Digest" have not been informed of any suit against them by Tillinger, who is said to have been involved as a witness against Hilsner in the famous Austrian blood libel case.

FIRST X-RAY INSTITUTE IN PALESTINE

New York (J.T.A.)—The Governing Board of the Hadassah Hospitals in Palestine approved the agreement made by the chairman on behalf of the board, with Dr. Ranoff, the President of the American Jewish Physicians Committee, for the establishment of a Roentgen Institute in connection with the Rothschild Hospital in Jerusalem, under the joint auspices of the two bodies, the office of the Hadassah Organization in New York announces.

The agreement provides for the purchase and installation of a complete up-to-date Roentgen equipment for diagnosis and therapy at a cost not to exceed $10,000, which is to be contributed by the Physicians' Committee.

Washington Heights Group of New York Chapter of Hadassah returned $1,000 collected several years ago to be applied to the purchase of a part of the X-Ray equipment in the new X-Ray Institute which is to be established shortly. It is given in commemoration of Eliezer Ben Yehuda. A tablet bearing suitable inscription is to be installed in the X-Ray room.

NEW IMMIGRATION BILL CALLS FOR TWO PER CENT. QUOTA

Washington (J.T.A.)—An immigration bill which will contain new provisions and modifications of existing statutes is being framed out by Chairman Albert S. Johnson of the House Immigration Committee in consultation with James J. Davis, Secretary of Labour, for early submission to the next Congress.

The provisions will provide for admitting 2 per cent. of the number of aliens here in 1890, without question, and allow up to 2 per cent. more on the same basis of blood relatives of persons already here.

On the surface the new plan raises the quota admissible from 3 to 4 per cent., but it makes the census of 1890 instead of 1910 the basis.

THE NEW ADATH JESHURUN CONGREGATION

Although Rabbi Berger has been minister of the new Adath Jeshurun scarcely a month, he has been successful in arousing intense enthusiasm among the members for establishing a centre that will have a religious and cultural atmosphere. A Midrash class for adults has been organized, and will meet every Sabbath at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. An elaborate curriculum has been drawn up for the daily Hebrew school which, for the first time in the history of the congregation, will begin its sessions immediately after the holidays. There will be classes ranging from ages of six to thirteen. Instruction will be given in Ivri, Bible, Hebrew history, religion and neginoth. The Sunday school department will begin Sunday, October 7. New members will be added to the teaching staff, making a total of about fifteen.

Collegiate Department

Another feature inaugurated by the rabbi is the collegiate department which will enable boys and girls to pass through the various grades to continue their Hebrew studies as they pursue their secular education. This class will receive instruction in post-Biblical history, Rashi and Talmud. Fifty pupils have already been enrolled for those courses.

The pupils of this Hebrew school will have clubs and circles for entertainments and story hours. For the boys, a Boy Scout troop will be organized, and for the girls a Girl Guide circle.

Sisterhood

Rabbi Berger has called a special meeting of the wives of the members for the purpose of re-organizing and strengthening the Sisterhood of the congregation. The meeting will take place on Wednesday, October 10, at 8 p.m., at the Montefiore Hebrew Orphans' Home. The rabbi will address the meeting.

Young People's League

Rabbi Berger will call a meeting to organize a Young People's League.
